Dear Professor,

I hope you are doing well. I am writing because I was unable to attend the lecture on [date] due to illness, and I want to make sure I catch up on the material as soon as possible.

Would it be possible for you to share a copy of the lecture notes or slides from that session? I have already reviewed the assigned readings for the week and plan to go through the materials carefully once I have them. In addition, could you let me know if any important announcements or updates were made during class, such as changes to assignment deadlines, upcoming quizzes, or exam information?

If it would be easier, I am also happy to stop by your office hours to pick up anything you can share or to ask questions about the material.

Please let me know when you have a chance. I would be grateful to have the materials by [day, e.g., Friday] so I am prepared for our next class. Thank you very much for your time and help.

Sincerely,
[karthikeya]
